

Project Running Architect RIBA

Casa Forma are looking to recruit a Project Architect to report to the design Director from a luxury residential or luxury hospitality background.

Supporting Management and running of architectural projects within the Practice so must have ability, skills & motivation to act as independent project architect with support from senior staff.

A high level of proficiency is required in the following Key Skills for this role:

- Taking responsibility for leading and managing projects from concept design stage, through development of design and all necessary stages or applications for statutory approvals, production information specifications, tender process and JCT contracts, including carrying out inspections of projects on site
- Managing project profitability and organisation of resources and co-ordination of projects
- Drawing and presentational skills in tasks reflecting all stages of RIBA Plan of Work
- Understanding of building technologies and environmental design and ability to employ structural practice, construction techniques and processes relevant to the production of information
- Knowledge of technical standards, regulatory frameworks and health & safety
- Directing and managing other supporting staff in the delegation of work to allow the provision of assistance on projects as necessary
- Strong design skills
- Good organisational skills & ability to work under own initiative
- Computer aided drafting skills AutoCAD